Perspectives on online text databases and corpus projects: a one-day workshop

FRIDAY 13 OCTOBER | LUX B:417 | CENTRE FOR THEOLOGY AND RELIGIOUS STUDIES | LUND UNIVERSITY

09.30 – 11.00
Prof. Jost Gippert, University of Frankfurt: On the Titus corpus project: Thesaurus Indogermanischer Text- und Sprachmaterialien
Jost Gippert is a German linguist, Caucasiologist and Professor for Comparative Linguistics at the Institute of Empirical Linguistics, Goethe Universität, Frankfurt, and is responsible for the TITUS project.

11.15 – 13.00
Katarzyna Anna Kapitan, University of Copenhagen: XML-based manuscript transcriptions as a basis of auto-generated stemmas
Alex Speed Kjeldsen and Katarzyna Anna Kapitan: Presentation of ongoing database and corpus projects in Copenhagen

Katarzyna Anna Kapitan and Alex Speed Kjeldsen are both from the Department of Nordic Research at the University of Copenhagen. Katarzyna Anna Kapitan is preparing a thesis on the transmission and reception of “Hrómundar saga Gripssonar”, an Old Icelandic legendary saga. Alex Speed Kjeldsen is Assistant Professor and works with digital editions of Old Icelandic texts.

13.00 – 14.00 LUNCH

14.15 – 16.00
The FOWIS project, Lund University: On the Monastica database
Samuel Rubenson (project leader), Johan Åhfeldt, Karine Åkerman Sarkisian, Britt Dahlman, Carl-Erik Lundbladh and Elisabet Göransson.

The workshop is arranged by CTR and Oskar and Signe Krooks stiftelse. To participate in the workshop, please send an email to elisabet.goransson@ctr.lu.se no later than 1 October. The number of participants is limited to 20 persons.

www.ctr.lu.se