Faculties of Humanities and Theology

- May be traced at the time for Lund University's inauguration, 1666
- Four faculties – Theology, Law, Medicine and Philosophy
- Late 19th century, the Faculty of Philosophy was divided into a Faculty of Liberal Arts and a Faculty of Science
- In 1964 the social sciences were separated from the humanities constituting their own faculties

Stages of cultural adaptation

Make more out of you stay!

- Decide different goals that you would like to achieve
 - academic
 - professional
 - personal
- Make notes of your different experiences and your own reflections
- Did you know that many employers find people who have studied abroad much more attractive as future employees than those who have not
