

Dekanus

Announcement of doctoral positions 15 January 2024

- one in Historical Osteology,
- one in Classical Archaeology and Ancient History
- two in Old Testament Studies, in Global Christianity and Interreligious Relations, in Jewish Studies or in Church History,
- one in Practical Philosophy
- one in Theoretical Philosophy,
- one in East and Sout-East Asia Studies,
- one in History of Ideas and Sciences
- one in Book History,
- one in Musicology,
- one in Information Studies,
- one in Literature,
- one in Scandinavian Languages,
- one in English Language and Linguistics,
- two in English Literature,
- one in Film Studies,
- one in Cognitive Semiotics
- one in European Studies
- one in French Studies with a specialisation in Didactics or in Greek,

- two in History,
within the National Graduate School in Historical Studies,
- three in French Studies, in Greek, in Italian Studies, in Latin, in Scandinavian Languages, in Modern Greek Studies or in Literature within the doctoral school Early Languages, Digital Philology (DigPhil),
- one in Global Christianity and Interreligious Relations, in Practical Theology, in Philosophy of Religion and Ethics or in Systematic Theology, within the project Fatih-based Refugee Relief in Europe (FABRIC),